Dear Friend,

Unless you've been under a rock these last few years, you would know that helping small businesses market their products and services is still quite profitable.

Now, why is it lucrative?

Smart small business owners know they must be online if they want to survive. But they don't have the time to learn digital marketing.

This significant need will allow you to tap into business markets that will beg you for your help.

And that's where you come up. But there is a big problem...

Now, keep in mind that there are tons of online marketing companies selling to offline or online businesses, so don't just think that it is an easy walk in the park to sell these companies.

I hear time and time again these complaints from offline companies:

- "I get phone calls from people day in and day out about SEO companies wanting to rank me top 10 in Google...who do I trust?"
- "My friend got scammed by some SEO company."
- "Some company told me they would send me leads for $$$, so I tried it out, and it didn't work. It's a SCAM!"

As you can see with these complaints, many companies have a terrible perception of marketers like us.

So how do you warm business owners up to come to you instead?

Introducing...

Video #2 - Objections

Do you know what the most significant objections are that companies have about online marketing services? If you're not sure and start trying to use the same techniques as everyone else — then guess what? They will treat you like everyone else and won't even listen.

Video #3 - Three Things They Want

Most marketers think companies care about the latest and greatest backlink methods. They don't care about the fancy traffic tricks, backlinks, SEO, and more. The reality is that most businesses want results in the form of these three things.

Video #4 - The Method

Now let's discuss how you stand out from everyone else. If you hate selling, then you're going to love this. It does take some hard work, and you may not get a yes every time, but you will get more yes's than other methods.

Video #5 - Method Expanded

Beyond this method - here are several ways to find potential leads and increase your chances of a YES.

Video #6 - Go Narrow

A lot of people are starting to want to approach all sorts of businesses. The best way to get companies to say yes is to do this one thing.
